Drivers who have experienced the into Central Park at Seventh and Fifty-ninth street and at Maty-sixth street, on the west side, tinue in their protests to The Evenleve. they my, but what something is shind the order other than the reason migned by Mr. Pallas-the prevention of mjury to pedestrians and equestrians. But in the absence of the Commissioner, who is in Atlantic City, ill, Secretary Willis Holly declared to-day that no ive save a desire to protect life and mb at the entrances actuated his superior in issuing his order.

There have not been any accidents Sixty-sixth street nor at Seventh said Mr. Holly, "but the missioner and received so many plaints of narrow escapes during the past three or four months that he dered precautionary measures necary and issued the order closing the entrances to all vehicles. He is being damned now for doing what he eves to be right, and would rather take this condemnation than undergo or an accident occurred at the points he has safeguarded.

No Trouble with Drivers,

"We have had no trouble with drivers, and if they and the equestrians only used the entrances there would have been no necessity for a change. It is the autoist who offends and who has made the entrances so dangerous. Chauffeurs do not seem to care how they go tearing around, and if the drivers are to blame any one for the closed entrances let them blame the automobiles. If Commissioner Palias could draw a distinction between driven vehicles and autos he would be only too pleased to do so, but the new automobile law permits autos winsevers a horse and wagon may go.

"The park authorities are fully cognisant of the conditions in Grand Circle as the result of the attempts of the pelice to regulate traffic. It is a shame and if you could hear the opinions expressed bereabouts you would have no mistaken lides as to the views of park folk. If it were within our power to change things in the Circle we would might youn do so. I don't know what the property-owners of the Circle are thinking about to permit the continuance of this merry-go-round arrangement that the police have inaugurated."

No New Entrances. "We have had no trouble with driv-

Mr. Holly was asked if there were any other entrances which the Park Commissioner had in mind to assign for the sole use of equestrians to the exclusion of vehicles, and he said there was not, nor were there points which he could think of where entrances might be broken through. In view of the alleged danger to equestrians, riding from the private academies at Sixty-sixth street and at Fifty-ninh street and Seventh avenue, and for whose benefit it would seem that these entrances are to be maintained, it was suggested that the roads might be widened, thereby removing the danger.

"Can't widen them." said Mr. Holly. "It cannot be done. The landscape artists would not stand for it a moment. All that has been threshed over, and the only conclusion this seems to be logical is that the entrances must remain as they are and for the sole use of equestrians and pedestrians."
